

ETech™

Emerging Technology Conference

“Any sufficiently advanced technology is indistinguishable from magic.”

—Arthur C. Clarke, “Profiles of The Future,” 1961 (Clarke’s third law)

The sixth annual O’Reilly Emerging Technology Conference (ETech) frames the ideas, projects, and technologies that the alpha geeks are thinking about, hacking on, and inventing right now into a coherent picture from which to extrapolate and upon which to start building. Expect much of what you see in early form here to show up in the products and services you’re taking for granted in the not-too-distant future.

This year’s ETech is about magic and the sufficiently advanced technology behind it. Some magical effects are made by big technology, others by judicious selection and integration of existing subtle technologies.

Demonstrate your company’s magic at ETech, and dazzle the most influential alpha geeks in the world.
