Opportunity doesn’t always knock. Sometimes it calls.

In 2006, ETel was a groundbreaking conference. We took a risk and broke from the tried, tired old format of most telco events—thinly disguised trade shows to sell boxes—and created a revitalized forum for early stage innovators, alpha geeks, and telco researchers to meet, debate, and share ideas with the people who may actually bring them into the world. It was a heady atmosphere. Our aim now is to take that spirit of imagination, discovery, and action into ETel 2007 and beyond.

Don’t miss your chance to be heard by this influential audience. Become part of the conversation by sponsoring ETel.

Audience Profile: Technologists, CIOs, CTOs, IT managers, chief scientists, researchers, programmers, hackers, venture capitalists, business developers, and entrepreneurs.
